Student use of mobile phones and personal devices

Scope

This school policy is implemented in line with the Department for Education's Student use of mobile phones and personal devices policy, which applies to all government schools. This document provides direction to students, staff, and families about managing personal devices that students choose to bring to school.

For the purposes of this policy, personal devices include mobile phones, smart watches and other digital devices that are capable of sending or receiving messages or calls and/or able to connect to the internet, and personal laptops or iPads that are not owned by the school and have not been brought to school by the student under a separate Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) agreement.

Rationale

With the widespread and increasing ownership of mobile phones and other devices among students it is critical that schools, in partnership with families, provide clear guidance for students to become informed, safe, respectful, and responsible digital citizens.

It is the Department for Education's position that access to personal devices during school hours must be managed so that students can be fully present in their learning and in their interactions with their teachers and peers.

The aim of this policy is to help promote:

- safe environments with reduced negative impacts of inappropriate use of devices at school, such as cyberbullying, exposure to harmful content, and critical incidents that involve mobile phones
- classroom environments where teachers can teach, and students can learn, free from distractions caused by personal use of devices
- use of breaks as quality time away from screens, encouraging physical activity and play and meaningful face-to-face connections with peers.

Personal devices at school

Students are permitted to bring personal devices to school:

- as a measure to ensure their safety while travelling to and from school
- so that parents and part-time employers can contact them outside of school hours
- so they can be contacted about a person under their own care, where applicable
- to be used during school hours in line with an exemption that has been approved by the school under this policy.

While students are at school, or attending school activities, they must comply with any reasonable directions given by school staff in line with this policy regarding their personal devices.

The Department for Education’s policy requires all students at all department schools to keep personal devices ‘off and away’ between the start and end of each school day, and while they are attending school activities off-site, such as camps and excursions.

Students will not be able to access their personal devices at any time during school hours, unless they have received an approved exemption from the school to use the device for a specific, agreed reason. This means both physical access and remote access (e.g. connecting with the personal device via hotspot or using paired headphones). It is compulsory for all government schools to follow the department-wide policy.

Storage of personal devices at school

Students will turn their devices off or place them in flight mode before putting them into a Yondr pouch. This includes taking off and storing any wearable technology that fits the definition of this policy, such as smart watches.

Mobile phones and smart watches, secured in Yondr pouches, should be stored in student bags or their pockets. Mobile phones should be switched off or set to flight mode whilst in the pouches. Smart watches must be switched to DO NOT DISTURB.

Responses to non-compliance

Where students use a personal device at school without an approved exemption, or use it inappropriately, a response will be provided in line with the school’s behaviour support policy.

- Students are sent to Student Services to secure their mobile phone in a pouch and put it into their bag or pocket.
- In the event a student refuses to put their phone into the Yondr pouch, an Executive/Leader will follow up and contact will be made with parents/caregivers.
- The misuse of mobile phones and personal devices may result in disciplinary action, which includes but is not limited to internal or external suspension or exclusion, depending on the nature of the misuse. Parents/caregivers may be asked to support the school with the student not bringing their mobile phone and personal device to school for a designated period of time.
- If a student repeatedly forgets to bring their pouch, further consequences may apply, such as a Take Home or suspension.

Where a student’s misuse of personal devices is serious, it may be necessary for the school to consider responses in line with the department’s suspension, exclusion and expulsion of students procedure, and/or to contact South Australia Police if the behaviour is suspected to be illegal.

Exemptions

Exceptional circumstances

Individual students may have extenuating reasons for needing access to their personal device during school hours, such as where:

- the device is used to monitor or help manage a health condition
- the device is a negotiated adjustment to a learning program for a student with disability or learning difficulties
- the device is used for translation by a student with English as an additional language

- the student has extenuating personal circumstances that require them to have more ready access to their personal device, such as being a parent themselves or a primary carer to a younger sibling or unwell family member.

Please contact the school if you need to request an exemption due to exceptional circumstances. These requests will be considered by the principal (or delegate) on a case-by-case basis. Where possible, supporting evidence should be provided. If approved, the exemption will be recorded in the student's file or health care/learning plan as appropriate.

Exemptions are valid only for the year in which they are issued. An exemption needs to be applied for each year.

Encourage their child not to bring a personal device to school unless necessary. Understand that the department does not provide insurance for accidental loss or damage to personal property that is brought onto school grounds (however, claims may be met under the department's public liability insurance where the loss or damage can be attributed to a negligent act or omission on the part of the school – the school will contact the department for advice if this may be the case).

Use the school's formal communication channels in all instances to communicate with the school or to make contact with their child during school hours, including where a student requires early collection from school. Encourage their child to always report to a school staff member in the first instance if they become unwell or experience an issue at school.
